Orientation

10:00 am – 1:00 pm

Scott Heidner, J.D., ACEC of Kansas Executive Director

Do you think 20 engineers will be too shy to get to know each other in a short time? Think again! ACEC Kansas Executive Director Scott Heidner will deliver a high energy presentation, and interactive sessions will have class members working and laughing together in no time at all. This critical session sets the stage for class members to work together for the program.

Lunch Provided

Economics of Private Practice

1:00 pm – 5:00 pm

Brad R. Wilson, CMA, CDA, MBA, Director, AE Consulting, Stambaugh Ness

One of the most important responsibilities of the leadership team in an engineering firm is to make sure it is able to provide income for its employees and owners. Even though most engineering firms are small and owned by engineers who work there, almost no time is spent in college on the economics of engineering. Most aspiring leaders have to learn "on the job" and through trial and error and it is not easy. This program is designed to shorten that learning curve. The learning objectives focus on the leadership behaviors that make engineering firms profitable and the operational "levers" that must be managed to ensure success. At the end of the day, attendees will know how to measure and manage the variables that impact the economic conditions within their engineering firms.

Reception at ACEC Office

Governmental Affairs

12:15 pm – 1:30 pm

Blaine Finch

The government's leadership influences the overall business climate and an individual firm's success. Business leaders need to know how to participate effectively in the public arena and build consensus. They also need to understand how government affairs activities can help their business succeed and how to encourage active participation at the grassroots level in the firm.

Risk Management 1:10 pm – 5:00 pm

Nick Maletta, Client Executive/Shareholder, Holmes Murphy

This program offers insight on underlying risks that could exacerbate or trigger a claim for the world of A/E/C professionals. We will examine non-technical risk drivers from closed claims that incurred a loss or expense over a recent 5-year period. To gain further perspective on the areas of risk, we delve into the elements of risk within each risk driver. These 30 elements break out the non-technical actions, behaviors, or breakdowns in project or practice management that have resulted in a Loss Prevention file or a claim. Participants learn how to manage the key contract Risk Drivers: poor project evaluation/selection, scope of services problems and breakdowns in contract protocols. Recommendations will be provided to avoid claims and improve practice and project management.
